ARMY OPERATIONS IN THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF IRELAND

Troops Expected to End Campaign There

Effort to Drive Insurgents to That Part

London, July 11.—Reports of the wrecking of railway lines by the Irish insurgents indicate that the republicans' present plan of campaign aims at preventing the movement of Free State troops.

There are no definite reports of the Free State troops' plans, but the opinion is expressed that they will endeavor to drive the irregulars into the Southwest corner of the island in the hope of dealing with them in a single operation, instead of being compelled to scatter their forces over a large part of the country.

The republicans are stated to be strengthening themselves in the Southwest, where they have mined the roads and cut the railroad to Dublin, so at present it is impossible to go by rail farther than Thurles, which is fifty miles northeast of Cork.

BUILDINGS BURNED BY INSURGENTS

Dublin, July 11.—The warfare being waged by national army forces against the irregulars in the country districts is becoming of a guerrilla character. For the most part the irregulars evacuate threatened positions before they are attacked, leaving a trail of burning buildings. Prisoners taken by the national troops are said to be poorly supplied with arms and equipment.

Two Killed.—An official statement to-day announced that a convoy of troops from Loughrea to Ennis Saturday evening fought a body of irregulars and took twelve prisoners. One of the irregulars was killed and several others wounded. The regulars lost one man killed by a sniper.

In County Louth, between Dunliver and Drogheda, a party of seventeen irregulars were surrounded by Free State troops, who took twelve prisoners and much material.

The city is comparatively quiet. Two unsuccessful attempts were made last evening to ambush regular troops. There were no casualties.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP IN DONEGAL

Dublin, July 11.—The republicans were exceptionally busy in County Donegal yesterday. In addition to their attempt to destroy the bridge across the Lennan River, they blew up the Givern bridge, thus cutting traffic in West Donegal. It was reported that the bridge was of a mile long and cost £15,000.

Many other bridges have been seriously damaged.

INSURGENTS HOLD DONEGAL TOWNS

London, July 11.—The towns of Castle Finn and Raphoe, in County Donegal, have been reoccupied by insurgent forces, says a Central News dispatch from Strabane, on the Tyrone-Donegal border.

INSURGENTS WERE MADE PRISONERS

Belfast, July 11.—Republican and Free State forces clashed yesterday at Fildown, between Dunliver and Drogheda, in County Louth. Twenty-two of the insurgents were captured. A band of republicans entered Manor Hamilton, County Leitrim, and prepared to attack the Free State barracks, when the local curate appealed to them to desist, threatening to place himself in front and receive the first shots. His appeal was effective.

MEXICAN DEPUTY KILLED BY CHILD

Girl Avenge Death of Deputy Moreno

Mexico City, July 11.—The shooting of Deputy Francisco Tejeda Llorca, by a fifteen-year-old girl, Maria Del Pilar Moreno, avenged her father's death, has provided Mexico with a sensation.

Popular sympathy is with the child, who, armed with a small revolver given her last Christmas by her father, the editor of El Heraldo de Mexico, set out alone to satisfy "a crime which appeared Mexican justice was unable to touch," she declared.

It is thought there that after mere formalities she will be released and the incident dismissed.

Llorca was chosen Senator from Vera Cruz in the election and had just come to Mexico City to present his new credentials. Moreno, whom he killed two months ago after a dispute in front of the Interior Department building, was also a deputy from Vera Cruz.

WARSHIPS AT QUEBEC

Montreal, July 11.—The warships Raleigh, Constance and Calcutta, of the British North Atlantic squadron, sailed this morning for Quebec after a week's visit here.

Constantinople Harem Attendants Are Out On Strike For Higher Wages

Constantinople, July 11.—Constantinople harem attendants have gone on a strike for more money and shorter hours. Many of the capital's harems have been left unguarded and their owners are trying distractedly to find suitable substitutes for the strikers. Numbers of Russian refugees volunteered their services, but it was found they were not fitted for the job.

The strikers insist that their "24-hour day" and the unceasing vigil they are required to keep on the women of the harems justify better remuneration, especially during the present hard times. Many of them protest that their wages have not been paid for more than a year, and in several instances they have appealed to the American Committee of Relief in the Near East for aid. The fact is that their masters, who in most cases are officials or employees of the Government, have not drawn any salary for months.

The strikers include eunuchs and other attendants.

TROOPS PROTECT RAILROAD SHOPS

Strikers Held Off at Bloomington, Illinois

Bloomington, Ill., July 11.—Thronging of strikers and striker sympathizers began crowding around the railroad shops this morning and at 10 o'clock orders were issued to set up machine guns covering every entrance.

Chicago, July 11.—Injunctions, troops, deputy marshals and armed guards in increasing numbers marked developments to-day in the nation-wide strike of railway shopmen.

Peace, judged by even the most promising indications, was no nearer than a week ago, when the striking workmen were outlawed by the Federal Railroad Labor Board and all channels to settlement by negotiation thereby closed. Claims of the roads to-day were generally that they were surmounting the difficulties of the strike and would be able to man their shops fully soon. The strike leaders asserted that the suspension was practically 100 per cent effective.

Five Companies of Troops.—A tense situation prevailed at Bloomington, Illinois, where five companies of state troops were guarding the Chicago and Alton shops, which had been practically closed since the beginning of the strike. Additional troops were expected. Road officials announced that imported strikers would arrive in Bloomington in the afternoon.

Quit Work.—Dennison, Ohio, July 11.—One hundred Pennsylvania railroad section men quit work here this morning in protest, it is said, against a five per cent wage cut ordered by the company, effective to-day.

MANITOBA AUDIT.

Winnipeg, July 11.—The report of a special audit of the Manitoba Government finances made by a firm of chartered accountants to the Provincial Treasury to-day, stated that the actual deficit for 1921 was $30,000 less than the amount stated by Hon. Edward Brown in his budget speech to be $565,488.

THREE KILLED BY STORMS IN U. S.

Damage of $3,000,000 in Middle West

Thousands of Head of Live-stock Killed

Omaha, Neb., July 11.—Three persons killed, at least two seriously injured that their recovery is doubtful and property damage that may reach $2,000,000 were the toll of storms and a tornado that swept parts of South Dakota and Nebraska Saturday night, Sunday and Monday.

With the re-opening of communication to the affected territory to-day, details of the widespread damage became known here. Reports to the Associated Press and local newspapers brought out the following details:

Three million dollars damage done by Saturday night's tornado and cloudburst in Gregory and Charles Counties, South Dakota and Knox County, Neb.; $1,000,000 damage in Gregory County alone.

Thousands of head of livestock killed.

The town of St. Charles, S.D., with a population of 300, virtually blown off the map.

Hundreds of buildings destroyed. At Creighton, Neb., 25 persons were reported to have been injured.

SICILIAN MAYOR BLEW UP BUILDING, KILLING OCCUPANTS

Rome, July 11.—Arrested on a charge of making bombs, Filadelfo Castro, Mayor of Lentini, Sicily, blew up the court house, killing all the occupants, says a dispatch to the Central News.

CANADA'S ARMY NOW REDUCED TO NUMBERS PLANNED

Being Cut to 3,350, as Parliament Directed

Force in All Military Districts Affected

Ottawa, July 11.—(Canadian Press)—A reorganization of the permanent force, involving a reduction of 450 officers and men, is now proceeding as a result of the action of Parliament at its last session in reducing the militia estimates. The strength of the force was put at about 3,800 during the discussion of the army estimates, so that the reduction now under way will bring it down to 3,350.

This reorganization affects the permanent force throughout all the military districts and the figures given above include the reductions made in the Royal Canadian Garrison at Quebec and those made at Kingston, which have been reported from those points.

As a result of economies of demobilization last year there was a saving elsewhere of $200,000 toward the cut made in the estimates at the last session. This left a deficit of $500,000 during the current year, which has had to be taken care of, and this is expected to be accomplished by the retirement of 450 officers and men.

It is calculated that on the average, including both officers and men, each member of the permanent army force costs the country about $1,200.

FAVORABLE REPORTS ON CROP OUTLOOK

Statement on B. C. and Prairie Conditions

Winnipeg, July 11.—(Canadian Press)—During the greater part of last week the weather was decidedly cool throughout the prairie region, with considerable rainfall in the three provinces, particularly heavy during the week-end in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan. Generally, the crops are in a favorable condition, with the moisture situation and the weather all that could be desired at this stage.

According to a weekly crop report of the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is probable that much of this year's crop will be rushed on the market immediately after threshing, the report states, as the financial condition of the majority of farmers will compel them to sell at once in order to meet existing obligations.

SAY CONFERENCE IS A FAILURE

But French Experts Remain at The Hague

To Represent France Until Sessions End

Paris, July 11.—France has decided to keep her experts at The Hague until the end of the conference there on Russian affairs, it was announced in official circles to-day.

This decision, it was explained, does not mark any change in the attitude of the Government, which now believes that no practical good can come of The Hague Conference because of the position taken by Russia. The French experts, it was stated, will remain at The Hague and endeavor with the other Allies to seek some way out of the difficulty, but they do not look for success unless the Russians radically alter their stand.

ECONOMY MEASURES IN GREAT BRITAIN

Bill Given Second Reading Makes Many Changes

London, July 11.—(Canadian Press)—The House of Commons, dealing with estimates yesterday, saw the Geddes axe wielded with a vigorous sweep.

In the Economic and Provisions Bill, which was finally given second reading by a vote of 199 to 57, the members saw the axe transformed into a small surgical instrument capable of performing the most delicate cutting operation. The bill covers almost every form of administrative economy and was recommended by the Geddes Committee. Its provisions range from the limitation of education grants to the imposition of an increased charge for a license for removing a body and from economies in the police administration to a charge for admission to the British Museum.

The wide ground covered by the bill meant an increase in the number of critics. The proposed economies were criticized on the one hand for being of a small character, while on the other it was suggested they went too far in the matter of education.

TO INCREASE CANADA'S TRADE

Ottawa, July 11.—Dr. W. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Shanghai, China, and Major G. B. Johnson, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Glasgow, Scotland, will shortly visit Canada to get in touch with personal touch with exporters to those countries with a view to developing Canada's overseas trade. They will tour Canada.

ENORMOUS SUM TO RE-BUILD MERVILLE

Government Will Bear Burden of Re-establishment

Will Cost Many Thousands of Dollars, Says Menzies

(By Times Correspondent)

Courtenay, B.C., July 11.—The Provincial Government has undertaken the full burden of re-establishing returned soldiers and their families, rendered destitute by the Meriville fire last week, and the work of re-establishment will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, Rev. Thomas Menzies, M.P.P. for Comox, declared at a meeting of the returned fire refugees here last night.

Colonel W. S. Lauder, director of the Land Settlement Board, representing the Provincial Government, told the local fire relief committee that he was satisfied to leave relief measures in their hands while he supervised the re-establishment of the homeless settlers.

With all the men clamoring to go back on their places to make a fresh start and all the women and children under tents at the Agricultural Hall, the relief situation here is beginning to settle down. No fresh fires have originated and every precaution is being taken to check the existing outbreaks. The full force of the Forestry Department and Comox Logging Co. is turning out cutting a swath through the forest, so that the fire cannot jump. Relief supplies in the form of clothing and food are pouring in from all over the Province and cash donations now amount to over $1,000. A most efficient local committee is handling the situation and nothing will be wasted or duplicated if they can help it.

BULGARIANS TO LAY CASE BEFORE LEAGUE COUNCIL

Sofia, July 11.—Considerable optimism is felt in official circles over the prospect of cutting a swath in the Balkans as a result of the League of Nations in London. Bulgarian cases will be presented by a delegation headed by M. Todoroff, who is leaving for London to-day.

UNION BANK WAR MEMORIAL UNVEILED IN WINNIPEG TO-DAY

Winnipeg, July 11.—Six hundred persons to-day attended the unveiling of a memorial to 120 employees of the Union Bank of Canada, who fell in the war and presented by W. R. Allan, vice-president of the bank, of a deed of eighteen acres of land to the League of Nations in London. Archbishop Matheson dedicated the memorial, while Sir James Aikins, Chief Justice of Manitoba, and Major-General D. E. Ketchen, in officer commanding Military District No. 10, delivered addresses.

HONOR MEMORY OF W. H. BIGGAR

Montreal, July 11.—The remains of W. H. Biggar, C.E., vice-president and general counsel of the Grand Trunk Railway system, who died suddenly a couple of days ago, were removed this morning by a special train to Bellevue, Ont., for burial this afternoon. The principal officers of the Grand Trunk Railway accompanied the train, headed by the president, Howard G. Kelley. Every department of the company was represented.

221 PRISONERS IN ONTARIO PAROLED

Report on Year's Work Given by Board

Toronto, July 11.—Although economic conditions during the year ended October 31, 1921, were not such as to facilitate the paroling of prisoners, the work of the Ontario Parole Board was uniformly successful, according to the annual report presented to Provincial Secretary Nixon by Alfred H. Laville, Chief Officer.

As no men were paroled unless they had worked to go to the unemployment situation had a very serious effect on the activities of the board. The report points out, however, that employees were so willing to assist that practically without exception work was forthcoming when it was decided to give a man a chance.

That the system in operation is satisfactory to the men is shown by the fact that during the year 92 per cent of the parole cases were successful—that is, there was no attempt to return to prison. Of 229 men whose parole was authorized and the 221 whose parole actually became effective, fewer than 20 broke their agreement.

PREMIER CHECKS TWO SENATORS ON LIQUOR ACT

Charges Barnard and Green With Misrepresentation

Puts Province's Case for Exclusive Importation Clearly

Premier Oliver to-day issued a statement in which he charges Senator G. H. Barnard and Senator R. F. Green, both of Victoria, with being guilty of misrepresenting the position of this Province to the Senate of Canada in order to have thrown out the amendments to the Canada Temperance Act, giving this Province complete control of liquor importation and in this way the power to squelch bootlegging.

"Hon. Senators Green and Barnard are responsible for the Senate of Canada's rejection of the legislation sought by the Government of British Columbia to control imports of liquor into the Province for consumption therein," Premier Oliver says.

"These gentlemen have felt it incumbent upon them to offer some explanation of their conduct. One excuse is that there should be no interference with the privilege of the people without their consent. Senator Barnard says that the people of British Columbia never asked for the prohibition of private importation, and that the former Prohibition Act and the present Liquor Control Act both provided for private importation. Senator Barnard says that the only question put to the people was whether they wanted the old Prohibition Act or Government sale in sealed packages. This is not a fair statement. The question submitted to the people was:

"Which do you prefer—
(1) The present Prohibition Act or
(2) An Act to provide for Government control and sale in sealed packages of spirits and malt liquors."

Control Includes Importation.—"When the people voted for Government control and sale in sealed packages in preference to the then Prohibition Act, they gave the Government a mandate to wipe out then Prohibition Act with its right to private importation, and in lieu thereof to provide for Government control and sale in sealed packages; and I respectfully submit that Government control which the people voted for would, if considered necessary, extend to the control of importation."

Senator Barnard says the people of British Columbia had not asked for the control of importations and that the Legislature had not done so. It (Concluded on page 2.)

PROSPECTS FOR B.C. FRUIT IN BRITAIN

Canadian Fruit Trade Commissioner Is Here

Seeks Good B.C. Representation at Imperial Fruit Show

A number of useful suggestions in the marketing of British Columbia fruit in the Old Country are being made to the Duke of Leinster, Smith, Fruit Trade Commissioner for the Commercial Intelligence Service of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

Mr. Forsyth Smith arrived from Duncan yesterday afternoon, and immediately proceeded to Gordon Head in company with W. H. Robertson, Provincial Horticulturist, to look over the ground, and note the developments in the soft fruit industry since he was last on Vancouver Island.

In the course of a chat with The Times last evening, Mr. Forsyth Smith said: "My work as Commissioner is to watch chiefly the apple market, and all changes in the general market conditions, and to keep our people also in touch with them, and also to make periodical trips through Canada, particularly through the apple exporting provinces of British Columbia, Ontario, and Nova Scotia. I hold meetings in all these sections, and explain the situation in the Old Country markets."

Imperial Fruit Show.—"I am also anxious to give further publicity to the second-imperial Fruit Show, and to induce growers to exhibit under more favorable conditions that pertained last year. The Imperial Fruit Show of 1921 was undoubtedly of more definite advertising value to British Columbia fruit than any previous exhibition in the United Kingdom in which the province has taken part, owing not only to the magnitude of the show, but, also, to the fact that it was the first English event of the kind at which special emphasis was laid upon the commercial point of view, and in which all the exhibits were of apples commercially packed. The British Columbia apples attracted special attention on account of their high color and elicited favorable comment on all sides."

"The outstanding success of the exhibit was very largely due to the Agent-General for British Columbia and his staff, who, under the expert guidance of Mr. P. J. Carey, of the Dominion Fruit Branch, worked early and late to make it a feature," Mr. Forsyth Smith continued.

"First and foremost, attention has been paid to the judging, and the classes in which Canada is to compete have been carefully selected."

Commission Willing To Meet Germany's Moratorium Request

Berlin Government Representatives Had Conference With Reparations Commission In Paris To-day; Said to Be No Other Solution of Difficulty.

Paris, July 11.—A moratorium on Germany's cash payments for the remainder of this year was thought in circles close to the Reparations Commission to be quite probable as a result of a conference to-day between Dr. Fischer, chairman of the German War Debts Commission, and all the members of the Reparations Commission at a hurriedly called informal session.

Dr. Fischer told the Commission the Germans would present a formal request for a moratorium at a meeting called by the Commission for to-morrow.

This request, it was indicated in Commission circles, likely will be acted upon by the Commission without waiting to refer the matter to the various Governments.

DRAFT LETTER

The letter asking for the moratorium which Dr. Fischer and Herr Schroeder, Under-Secretary for Finance, who is with the War Debt Commission in Paris, were drafting to-day, is expected to suggest cancellation of all the remaining payments this year, leaving the matter of a moratorium thereafter open for the time being. Under this arrangement the question of the further moratorium would be decided later upon fuller consideration and in view of what may happen in Germany in the next few weeks.

No Other Way.—It is understood that the majority of the Commission see no other way out of the present crisis and are therefore prepared to vote a temporary moratorium, particularly because there is general realization that no loan to Germany is immediately possible and that relief for present conditions must come quickly.

Dr. Fischer told the Commission that Germany had succeeded in getting together sufficient foreign exchange to meet the payment of 600,000 gold marks due July 15, but whether this payment will be exacted has not yet been decided.

The exact form of the possible moratorium would be evolved during this afternoon, it was thought, as Dr. Fischer and Herr Schroeder will again have separate conferences with the members of the Commission during the day in an effort to put their request into such shape as will meet with the Commission's approval.

BRITISH MINISTERS DISCUSS SITUATION

London, July 11.—Premier Lloyd George presided at a Cabinet meeting this afternoon at which the principal subject under consideration was the financial situation of the mark. Earl Balfour arrived at the meeting, having previously engaged in conversation with Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Robert Horne and Sir Basil Blackett, Controller of Finance of the British Treasury, at the Foreign Office.

According to diplomatic quarters, all news from Germany to-day was pessimistic in character, but it was pointed out that the recent slump in the value of the mark was not unexpected and that such a decline had been foreshadowed since the close of the Genoa conference.

FRENCH OPPOSE MEETING OF LEADERS

Paris, July 11.—The French Government is opposed to an immediate meeting of the Allied Powers to discuss the reparations situation and it will only consent to such a meeting as a final step. This was made plain in official circles to-day after a long conference between President Ducloux of the Commission and Premier Poincare.

Among the data available to the Ministers were special dispatches from the British Ambassador in Berlin outlining conditions in Germany.

POINCARÉ MAY VISIT LONDON

London, July 11.—Premier Poincaré of France, probably will be invited to London for a discussion with Premier Lloyd George on the reparations question as affected by present conditions in Germany, according to official circles here.

Great Britain and France are in close communication concerning Germany's financial position, which came before the British Cabinet at a meeting to-day.

Road to Recovery.—The Times to-day began publication of a series of special articles discussing "the economic morass in which the world is floundering" and aiming to point the road to recovery. The writer says the latest collapse of the mark merely adds an alarming symptom to the other symptoms long noticeable.

"Great Britain alone holds the key to the whole position," he declares. "The only gateway to the path to safety is through firm, courageous treatment of the reparations problem."

In order to win the war, the gate the question of the British war indebtedness to the United States must first be settled.

The article deals with "the suggestion that Great Britain cancel the debts owing her from the Allies to bring home to the people of the United States the part they ought to play in the economic redemption of the world," and with the fallacious notion that, in as much as the United States is wealthy, it could well afford

CIRCUS ELEPHANTS CLEARED UP RAILWAY WRECK IN STATES

Mason City, Ia., July 11.—A circus train was struck by a switching engine in a fog here this morning. Two animal cars were overturned and beasts of the field and fowl of the air were at large. Because of the circus men's strike a wrecking crew was not immediately available to clear the track. Attaches of the circus founded up three elephants from neighboring cornfields and pressed them into valiant service. In less than thirty minutes the overturned cars had been pulled from the track and the right of way cleared.

A CONTRAST.

Some time ago ill health compelled Dr. Charles E. Saunders to relinquish his position as Dominion Cerealizer of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. During the recent session of Parliament the elected representatives of the people voted him two thousand dollars in recognition of his services to the country generally and their value to the Allied cause in particular. Outside of this one gift he is entitled to nine hundred dollars per annum by way of superannuation.

Dr. Saunders is actually the "inventor" of Marquis wheat. The valuation of the discovery which resulted in the production of 300,000,000 bushels a year of the most valuable food plant in the world could not be successfully undertaken by the champion mathematician of the age. In "The Outline of Science," which is now being published by Professor Thompson there appears this passage in reference to the experimental grain that Dr. Saunders planted in a small plot at Ottawa in the Spring of 1903: "It is like a romance to read that the first crop of the wheat that was destined within a dozen years to overtake the mightiest elevators in the land was stored away in the Winter of 1904-5 in a paper packet no larger than an envelope."

When an "obsolete" politician reaches the end of his political usefulness his party usually sends him to finish his public career amid those peaceful surroundings that have come to be known as the "red chamber." In consideration of his presence there he qualifies for an annual emolument of $4,000 for as long as he shall live. Further comment upon the contrast which the case of Dr. Saunders and the average Senator supply would seem to be needless.

KILLING ITSELF.

In common with the rest of the world this country is naturally interested in the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill that is still displayed in the political window in the United States. There is little prospect that its Republican sponsors will ever see it operative and the results of recent Congressional primaries would appear to indicate that the people as a whole are not having any. The New York World comments on the question from the point of view that the Republicans cannot have the cake and sell it too, and proceeds:

It is not, however, pure folly. It is not silliness for its own sake. It is folly and silliness traded in for political purposes by one of the most stupendous log-rolls in recent history. Into the making of that bill there entered not a single moment of honest reflection about the economic position of America after the war. The only consideration was how many special interests could be pleased or bluffed in one omnium gathering of favor and privilege. The result is a measure which as a general rule is designed to please certain manufacturers, to bluff the farmers and to forget the existence of the consumer and the taxpayer. This combination of capitalist folly mixed with bluff and engineered by petty politics no one can respect if he has taken the trouble to understand it. It has not even the virtue of honest standard Republicanism. For there have been standard Republican tariffs which, however socially bad and costly, were at least workable. But the Fordney-McCumber bill is in a class by itself.

Many powerful Republican newspapers are strongly opposed to the measure; they recognize the fundamental fact that the United States cannot have an export trade without retaining equal facilities for importation. The bill would curtail the latter and would compel the American manufacturer and farmer to do business on a smaller scale. Meanwhile the disaster already wreaked in the ranks of the Republican party is looked upon as the most hopeful thing about the measure. How long will it be before the proposal is disowned altogether?

VISITING MINISTERS.

When the Federal Ministers reach this city at an early date it goes without saying that local bodies will avail themselves of the opportunity that the occasion will present to get the official ear and eye for a number of important matters in which the people of this city and the Dominion Government are jointly interested. None of the party should require any particular schooling in connection with the conditions that exist at the Outer Wharves. At the same time it would be fortunate if one of the new Embassies should come alongside while the several ministers were contemplating the country's idle property a few yards to seaward.

Since Dr. Beland will make the journey to this Province we shall hope that the provincial minister responsible for the Department of Public Health will advise him of the local Government's plans for further development at Tranquille. By using the property which our own authorities are about to purchase as a basis for the establishment of a tubercular colony the Dominion Government would automatically become involved. Of the sanatorium population over one hundred are ex-service men and any scheme of sheltered employment that might be undertaken would naturally include them. With Dr. Beland favorably disposed to co-operative effort the country should soon be able to get a start on this much needed work.

SEEING DANGER.

One of the most significant and important developments that has taken place in political Germany during the last few days is the decision of the German People's Party to support the republic. When this body came into existence its most influential leaders were pronounced Kaiserites and the whole machinery of the organization was operated with the avowed intention of restoring the old regime in some form. Without any detailed reasons for such a reversal of policy it can be taken for granted that recent economic developments in the Fatherland have been responsible for the Stinnes touch to the Party's aims. He is shrewd enough to recognize that his interests are dependent upon stable government; he knows that unless the moderate elements in the Reichstag can be assured of popular support during the present financial crisis his schemes will be jeopardized. And if law and order shall not be preserved, if the constitution shall be endangered, anything might happen. Hugo Stinnes is quite prepared to drop the old motto of the German People's Party at the moment he would be called upon to pay for it. That seems to be about the long and the short of Sunday's resolution.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It looks as if the gathering at the Hague may end in a fizzle unless the gentlemen from Russia can be brought down to earth.

Irish republicanism is getting more frantic. It is tearing up railway lines and destroying bridges and forgetting that its disciples will eventually have to pay for the damage.

Just another reminder that the good people of Victoria can help the settlers who have lost their effects in forest fires by sending articles of clothing and household equipment—and dollars.

Sabre-rattling individuals seem to forget that the spectacle of Europe at the present time furnishes the most extraordinary precedent of a victor seriously considering the rehabilitation of its victim's credit. Can it be argued that the people of the world will allow Governments to conduct their international dealings on a basis calculated to provoke another war that would have to be fought on this plan? Yet we are solemnly told that science should work overtime on the development of poison gas for future use in war.

SUICIDAL POLICY

To the Editor:—A very serious situation has arisen now with regard to vacant city land. Is it worth paying any more taxes on? The city is steadily and surely running down the value of land; everywhere we are confronted with the same thing. Offer a piece of vacant land to anyone and he will tell you, "I can buy an adjacent piece from the city for the taxes that are due on it"—infinitely less than what it is supposed to be worth and assessed for.

Now I see the city is going to have an auction sale of reverted lands, absolutely unreserved, to do at any figure which they will fetch. Surely this is a suicidal policy so far as encouraging those who are paying taxes on vacant property goes and who are expected to go on paying. It simply means that more and more taxes will be paid by the city and the city will be running down the value of land. It is in effect what they are doing, and it is very gravely questioning the advisability of this action. It is, without meaning it, the surest way of proving that property is worth nothing. The city, before going on with this auction sale, should have expert advice on the subject. Personally, I think the only way for the city to get people to pay their taxes is not to force them to pay on properties on the market, but keep them up to their eyes in the value and sell them on very easy terms. The city would be better advised to hold these until there is a demand for them at a fair figure. If the city dumps them on the market, they may, and probably will, find that they have an ever-increasing list of properties for sale, and less and less are coming in. It is a very grave and serious question, and one that should be gone on with without the very best advice possible.

F. B. PEMBERTON

CITY PLANS BIG SALE OF HOUSES

Homes and Vacant Land to Go Under Hammer Aug. 24

The largest sale of homes in the history of Victoria will be held by the City Council August 24, when 150 lots of houses, which reverted to the Corporation at recent tax sales, are auctioned to the highest bidder. In addition to the 150 homes one hundred vacant lots will be auctioned. The City's purpose in holding the land sale is to get rid of all the houses and vacant lots which are a burden on the city. The City's present holdings of houses require a great deal of attention, and the Reverted Land Committee does not feel that the City should carry on a real estate business anyway. It will be impossible, however, to dispose of a number of houses which are tangled up in complicated tax payment schemes.

Vacant land will be auctioned more as an experiment than anything else. The City is not sure just how much land will sell without any reserve on its price.

The City now has about 1,500 parcels of land scattered all over Victoria, on its harbor. On these there are about 150 houses, from which a rental of $2,500 a month is derived. Many of these houses are modern in design and are to the City as a result of heavy local improvement taxes on streets which have been widened at great expense.

NEW LEGAL POINT SHAKES TITLES TO LAND TITLES

City Fears Succession Duty Claims May Have Serious Results

The security of hundreds of indefeasible land titles all over British Columbia are endangered by a case which has arisen in connection with the sale of a strip of land running from Cormorant Street through to Pandora Avenue. While the city was completing the sale of the land to the City Company, the Provincial Imperial Oil Company, city officials and members of the City Council declared to-day.

The case, it appears, held an indefeasible title to a strip of land running from Cormorant Street through to Pandora Avenue. While the city was completing the sale of the land to the City Company, the Provincial Imperial Oil Company, city officials and members of the City Council declared to-day.

This case may open up alarming possibilities. It was explained at the City Hall to-day. The city and the Imperial Oil Company have a joint ownership of the land upon which ancient succession duties are owing. If the Government were to step in and claim these duties hundreds of titles might be upset, it is declared.

To See Hark.

Members of the City Council will meet to-day at 10 o'clock in the Finance Department. The city and the Imperial Oil Company have a joint ownership of the land upon which ancient succession duties are owing. If the Government were to step in and claim these duties hundreds of titles might be upset, it is declared.

Alderman Todd explained the matter to the Council last night. He said that unless the city and the Imperial Oil Company were to step in and claim these duties hundreds of titles might be upset, it is declared.

CANADIAN LEGION

TO HOLD MOONLIGHT EXCURSION SOON

Women's Auxiliary Holds Session; Plans for Summer

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion was held in the rooms of the association last evening. In the absence of the president the vice-president presided. There was a large attendance of members.

A report in connection with the weekly whist drives, which are held every Friday evening, was presented, and satisfaction expressed in regard to the financial success of same. In view of the large turn-out at the whist drives it was agreed to continue them throughout the Summer months.

The usual monthly report of the treasurer was presented and adopted by the members.

A communication was read from the secretary of the Legion stating that the association had been allocated a room for the Summer day, and the matter was left in the hands of a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

A vote of sympathy was passed to the president, Mrs. Ricketts, in connection with the death of her grandchild.

Arrangements were made to hold another get-together social in the club rooms of the association on Monday, July 24.

A report received from the special committee appointed to look into the matter of holding an evening cruise in the near future, and it was agreed to confirm the arrangements made with the Canadian Pacific Railway to charter a steamer for the evening of Saturday, August 12.

The excursion will take the form of a moonlight cruise, and there will be community singing and dancing on board, the committee being empowered to engage a suitable orchestra. Tickets for the cruise will be on sale in a few days.

BEAUTIFUL GARDENS TO BE SCENE OF FETE

Girl Guides' Function Planned For Saturday

The Girl Guides, whose recent activities have brought them so favorably before the public, have completed arrangements for a delightful garden fete, to be held at "Gonzales" on Saturday afternoon.

The affair, which promises to be one of the most charming functions of the Summer, will be opened by Mrs. Nichol, Provincial Commissioner of the Girl Guides. The formal programme will include a march past of all the local companies, followed by company displays. The Camosun Chapter I. O. O. E. will then present courses to the First Victoria Company. This company, recently reorganized under the able leadership of Miss Colby, has won for itself an enviable reputation, taking second place in the Ambulance contest at the Provincial Rally, in competition with all the other companies of the Province.

An attractive programme of recitations has been arranged, through the kindness of Major Bullock, Webster, and will be presented by some of his pupils on the charming natural stage in the grounds. Other attractions will be provided by the flower-decked stalls laden with pretty and ingenious fancy articles, toys and needlework, the handwork of the Guides and their friends, the diversions for the younger visitors will include pony rides, fish pond, lucky dips, coconut shies, games of various kinds, and a magic train, under the direction of the Brownies.

Home-made candies and cakes will also be for sale, and afternoon tea and ices will be dispensed by the Guides throughout the afternoon. In the shady nooks in the lovely grounds, the gardens of "Gonzales" are in themselves worth a special visit of inspection, the garden at this time of the year being one of their chief glories.

KUMTUKS PICNIC ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Grand opera and the primitive joys of picnicking touch two extremes of delight which are rarely combined in this workaday world. This unique programme was, however, arranged for the celebration of the Kumtuks Club last evening by their hostesses, Mrs. D. R. Shaw, at her Summer camp, McLaughlin Camp, Esquimalt. A continuance of Summer weather favored the undertaking, the glow of a cheery bonfire giving the crowning touch of comfort to the alfresco entertainment. In addition to the club members the guests of the evening included Mrs. Lugin, Madame Lugin-Fahey and Miss Bruce.

After a dainty buffet supper served under the trees the party gathered round the bonfire to listen in rapt silence to the glorious voice of Madame Fahey in several well-chosen selections, Miss Lugin providing the accompaniment on the guitar, and community singing was enjoyed later, but an additional pleasure was still in reserve, for as the party was preparing to make its farewells three mysterious figures in Oriental dresses appeared from behind the rocks and rendered several fine selections from grand opera.

Before dispersing the Kumtuks joined in the traditional and convivial tribute "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," a vote of thanks being tendered for the delightful evening by Miss Brown, the club president. Final arrangements were made last night for the entertainment to be given by the club in honor of Miss Brueger, of the Seattle Business and Professional Women's Club, at the home of Miss Russell, Boyd Street, on Friday evening next.

NURSES CONVENTION DEVELOPS INTEREST IN PUBLIC HEALTH

At the recent Nurses' Convention held at Seattle it was interesting to note how international is the zeal shown and enthusiasm aroused, especially in the Public Health Department of the work, even the Philippines sending a nurse, who, after training at the American Hospital (St. Luke's) in Manila, had taken a training in California in public health nursing, and was now on her return trip home, to be the pioneer in this splendid community work. Miss Soledad Avarry, R.N., from Laguna, is the lady Canada sent. Miss Hawaii 2, Philippines 2, Holland 1, China 1, but the Pacific Coast was too expensive a trip for English nurses, who are always well represented at the European Nursing Conventions. Mrs. Bedford Fenwick (late Bart's), being among the first organizers of the conventions. Boston was chosen, after a close competition, as the next meeting place, which will be more possible for European nurses.

In the general summing-up on Saturday, when the resolutions drawn up at the different sessions and round-table conferences were finally passed, after several carefully considered amendments, four or five features were outstanding in importance:

(1) A general desire that the financial and other responsibilities should be shared, as far as possible, by all the members of an organization, and not relegated to a few public-spirited directors.

(2) Organization was desired for the inspection of the Schools of Nursing, which would include an exhaustive inquiry into the examination of everything connected with the education, the living conditions, the wards, ward supplies, superintendent's office, kitchen, nurses' home, records, etc.

As a matter of courtesy the superintendent would be notified of the time shortly beforehand, but the wards would be visited first and the books examined afterwards, and the period would be about a week. A report would be sent afterwards to (a) the superintendent; (b) the head of the board of directors; (c) the head of the board of trustees. This shows an admirable concept of how efficiency can be secured and maintained, especially if the inspectors are constructive rather than destructive in their reports.

(3) Attention was drawn to the need of improvement in mental nurse training, and doubtless the inspection desired in general would be extended to mental hospitals, where the need for outside and unprejudiced inspection and control is infinitely greater.

(4) As the incidence of tuberculosis amongst nurses is out of all proportion, an inquiry into this lamentable condition was desired, with recommendations for its prevention.

(5) The P.N.O. asked for a standardization in phraseology after a survey, so that the reports might be of greater general utility.

BEAVER LAKE CAMP FOR GIRLS IN AUGUST

C. G. I. T. to Give Pleasant Recreation in Sylvan Surroundings

Camp life in ideal surroundings has an irresistible appeal for the primitive man or woman when shorted of the many comforts which while negligible to some minds, present an insuperable objection to less complacent mortals.

When to the many allurements of the great out-of-doors are added the up-to-date conveniences of civilization, such as a good water supply, comfortable sleeping tents and pavilion, and a first-class cook, as provided for the Canadian Girls-in-Training at their Summer Camp at Beaver Lake, then indeed are its attractions beyond criticism.

The girls will spend camp on August 7 for a delectable ten days, and a varied and enjoyable programme of swimming, boating, hiking, games, camp-craft and nature study will fill the daylight hours, while community songs round the campfire, and simple services will bring the days activities to a happy close. A well supplied library will also provide recreation for the studios.

The Beaver Lake Camp, which with its equipment has been kindly loaned to the Canadian Girls-in-Training by the Y. M. C. A., proved a delightful holiday resort last year, when under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A. forty-five girls tasted the joys of camp life. A number of these girls have already registered for this year's camp, and a competent staff in charge is composed as follows:

Camp leader, Mrs. George Guy; camp mother, Mrs. Jane Hudd; sports officer, Miss Dorothy Hays; nurse, Miss Janet McEwan; business manager, Miss De Wolfe; group leaders, the Misses Henderson, G. Adam, J. McEwan and J. Graham.

The camp will be open on Sunday afternoon to relatives and friends of the girls, afternoon tea being served to visitors.

A Valuable Effort.
 Some 30,000 girls in Canada belong to the Girls-in-Training group, and the Summer camps under their auspices have proved one of the most delightful and beneficial features of their year's activities. The opportunities for rest and recreation in idyllic surroundings, with all the attendant joys of congenial companionship have proved invaluable to many business girls and students who have sought their healing influence. By the cool waters of stream and lake, under immense trees, from shore to shore the Dominion is studied with these camps. One lovely camp is situated in the Okanagan Valley, and two in the vicinity of Vancouver, while the Victoria camp at Beaver Lake, with its charming natural advantages, its well planned additional comforts and its convenient proximity to town, has already proved itself one of the most satisfactory holiday camps in Canada.

A delightful book entitled "Indian Legends of Vancouver Island," by Mr. Alfred Carmichael, has recently been published and is now available for purchasers.

IF WINTER COMES

By A. S. M. HUTCHINSON
INSTALMENT NO. 3

Copyrighted—Published by arrangement with British & Colonial Press, Ltd.

The houses of Penny Green carried out the Kate Greenaway effect that the Green itself established. Along the upper road of the tilted dish were the larger houses, and upon the lower road mostly the cottages of the villagers; also upon the lower road the five shops of Penny Green: the butcher's shop which opened on Tuesdays and Fridays by a butcher who came in from Tidborough with a spanking horse in front of him and half a week's supply of meat behind him; the grocer's shop, which, like enormous affairs in London, were also a large number of other shops but, unlike the London affairs, dispensed them all within the one shop and over the one counter. In the grocer's shop you could be handed into one hand a pound of tea and into the other a pair of boots, a convenience which, after all, is not to be had in all Oxford Street. The draper's shop carrying the principle further, would not only dress you; post-office you; linoleum, rug and wall paper you; ink, pencil and note paper you; but would also bury you and "tomorrow" you would be "gone" which it was only called upon to perform for anybody about once in five years—Penny Green—being long-lived—but was always ready and anxious to carry out. Indeed in the back room of his shop, the draper, Mr. Pinnock, had a coffin which he had been trying (as he said) "to work off" for twenty-two years. It represented Mr. Pinnock's single and disastrous essay in sharp business. Two and twenty years earlier, Old Wink had been not only dying but "as good as dead." Mr. Pinnock on a stock-replenishing excursion in Tidborough, had bought a coffin, at the undertaker's, of a size to fit Old Wink, and for the reason that, buying it then, he could convey it back on the wagon he had hired for the day and thus save carriage. He had brought it back, and the first person he had set eyes on in Penny Green was no other than Old Wink himself, miraculously recovered and stubbornly downstair and sunning at his door. The shock had nearly caused Mr. Pinnock to qualify for the coffin himself; but he had not, nor had any other inhabitant of suitable size since demised. Longer persons than Old Wink had died, and much shorter and much stouter persons than Old Wink had died. But the coffin had remained. Up-ended and neatly fitted with shelves, it served as a store cupboard, without a door, pending its proper use. But it was a terribly expensive store cupboard and it stood in Mr. Pinnock's parlor as a gloomy monument to the folly of rash and hazardous speculation.

Penny Green, like Rome, had not even built in a day. The houses of the Penny Green Garden Home on the other hand, were being run up in as near to a day as enthusiastic developers, feverish contractors (trying one with another) and impatient ants could encompass. Nor was Penny Green built for a day. The houses and cottages of Penny Green had been built under the influence of many and different styles of architecture; and they had been built not only by people who intended to live in them, and proposed to live in them, and well cupboarded and stoutly beamed and floored in them, but who, not generating restless and railway-frenzied builders, but who, for the children of their children and for children yet beyond. Sabre's house was of grey stone and it presented over the doorway the date 1867.

"Nearly two hundred and fifty years," Mabel had once said. "And I bet," Sabre had replied, "it's never been better kept or run than you run it now, Mabel."

The tribute was well deserved. Mabel, who was in many ways a model woman, was preeminently a model housewife. "Crawshaw's" was spotlessly kept and perfectly administered. Four rooms, apart from the domestic offices, were on the ground floor. One was the morning room, in which the principal lived; one the dining room and one the drawing-room. They were entered by enormously heavy doors of oak, fitted with latches, the drawing-room up two steps, the dining room down one step and the morning room and the fourth room on the level. All were low-beamed and many-windowed with lattice windows; all were stepped into a stepping into a very quiet place, and somehow into a room which one had not expected to be there, or not quite that shape if a room were there. Sabre never quite lost that feeling of pleasant surprise on entering them. They had moreover, whether due to the skill of the architect or the sagacity of Mabel, the admirable, but rare attribute of being cool in Summer and warm in Winter.

The only room in the house which Sabre did not like was the fourth sitting room on the ground floor; and it was his own room, furnished and decorated by Mabel for his own particular use and comfort. But she called it his "den," and Sabre loathed and detested the word den as applied to a room a man specially inhabits. It implied to him a masculine untidiness, and he was intensely orderly and hated untidiness. It implied customs and manners of what he called "boarding-house ideas"—the idea that a man must have an untidily comfortable apartment into which he can retire and envelop himself in tobacco smoke, and where he "can have his own things around him," and "have his pipes and his pictures about him," and where he "can wear 'an old shooting jacket and slippers," and he loathed and detested all these phrases and the ideas they connoted. He had no "old shooting jacket" and he would have given it to the gardener if he had; and he detested wearing slippers; and never did wear slippers; it was his habit to put on his boots after his bath and to keep them on till he put on shoes when changing for dinner. Above all, he loathed and detested the vision which the word "den" always conjured up to him. This was a vision of the door of a typical den being opened by a wife, and of the wife saying in a mincing voice, "This is George in his den," and of boarding-house females peering over the wife's shoulder and smiling fatuously at the denizen who, in an old shooting jacket and slippers, grinned vacuously back at them. To Mark this was a horrible and unspeakable vision.

Mabel could not in the least understand it, and common sense and common custom were entirely on her side; Mark admitted that. The ridiculous and trivial affair only took on a deeper significance—not apparent later—in the fact that he could not make Mabel understand his attitude.

The matter of the den and another matter, touching the servants, came up between them in the very earliest days of their married life. From London, on their return from their honeymoon, Mark had been urgently summoned to the sick-bed of his father, in Chesham. Mabel proceeded to Crawshaw's. He joined her a week later, his father happily recovered. Mabel had been busy "settling things," and she took him round the house with delicious pride and happiness. Mark, sharing both, had his arm linked in hers. When they came to the fourth sitting room, Mabel announced gaily, "And this is your den!"

Mark gave a mock groan. "Oh, lord, not den?"

"Yes, of course, den. Why ever not?"

"I absolutely can't stick den." He glanced about. "Who on earth's left those fearful old slippers there?"

"They're a pair of father's. I took them specially for you for this room. You haven't got any slippers like that."

He gazed upon the heels down-trodden by her heavy father. He did not much like her heavy father. "No, I haven't," he said, and thought grimly, "Thank God!"

"But Mark, what do you mean, you can't stick 'den'?"

He explained laughingly. He ended, "It's just like lounge hall. Lounge hall makes me feel perfectly sick. You're not going to call the hall a lounge hall, are you?"

She was quite serious and the least little bit put out. "No—I'm not. But I can't see why. I've never heard such funny ideas."

He stepped out, and she closed the door after them. "Well, that's your den."

As if he had never spoken! A vague and transient discomfort shot through him.

It was when they came down again, completely happy and pleased, that the servant incident occurred. Mabel was down the stairs slightly before him and turned a smiling face up to him as he descended. "Is Jove, it's jolly," he said. "We'll be happy here, and he kissed her."

"You'd better see the kitchen. It's awful nice!"

At the kitchen door she paused and began in a mysterious whisper a long account of the servants. "I think they'll turn out nice girls. They're sisters, you know, and they're glad to be in a place together. They've both got young men in the village. Fancy, the cook told me that at Mrs. Wellington's where she was at Chesham, she wasn't allowed to use soda for washing up because Mrs. Wellington fussed so frightfully about the pattern on her china! Fancy, in their family they've got eleven brothers and sisters. Isn't it awful how those kind of people—"

He dropped the meat on the ground at a safe distance, and said, "Hush! See what I have brought to you. I

THE SANDMAN
STORY FOR
T-O-N-I-G-H-TMR. DOG CATCHES MR. FOX
Part II.

Mr. Dog was lying with his head on his paw, his eyes wide open and his ears pricked up to catch the least sound, when Mr. Fox looked through the bushes at the back of the yard where Mr. Dog's house stood.

Mr. Fox was carrying a large piece of meat. He had stolen it from a neighboring farm, but that did not bother the conscience of Mr. Fox in the least. He wanted to make friends with his enemy and it mattered little how he brought this about.

Very softly he had pushed his head through the bushes, but the quick ear of Mr. Dog heard him and he jumped to his feet and began to bark. Instead of running, Mr. Fox bounded through the bushes and came close to Mr. Dog.

He dropped the meat on the ground at a safe distance, and said, "Hush! See what I have brought to you. I have given up hunting here for my supper or breakfast. You are too smart for me, Mr. Dog, and to show that I bear you no ill feeling I have brought you a present.

"I am a good sport, and when I

But he did not wag his tail, and if Mr. Fox had been clever enough to notice this he might have kept beyond the length of the chain that held Mr. Dog.

But he didn't. He was thinking of the chickens he would have for breakfast, for as soon as Mr. Dog began to eat the meat he would have to trouble in getting one.

The meat was very tempting, but Mr. Dog was well fed by his master, and besides that he wanted to get Mr. Fox in his power.

Mr. Dog hung his head. "You will have to bring it to me, Mr. Fox," he said. "You see I am chained and I cannot reach it."

"Now, I have a fancy for eating my food close to that post. My dish is always placed there and, as you are so kind as to bring me a present, perhaps you will not mind doing me the favor of placing it there."

"Of course! Of course! Anything to oblige a friend," said Mr. Fox, smiling to himself and thinking how easily he had calmed Mr. Dog. "It is a fine bit of meat and I trust you will enjoy it."

It was done so quickly that Mr. Fox did not have a chance to wink, for as he neared the post Mr. Dog who was at the length he was chained, whirled around and began to run in a circle.

The chain caught Mr. Fox about the feet, for it was attached to the post, and the next thing he knew he was bound so he could not get away.

PROSPECTS FOR B. C.
FRUIT IN BRITAIN

pete with England are to be judged by a board of three, one to be a Canadian appointed by the Fruit Branch, Ottawa, one the box pack demonstrator attached to the British Ministry of Agriculture, and the third, a neutral, probably an Australian. Stringent regulations are to be enforced, disqualifying all entries that do not comply with all requirements. The obnoxious regulation requiring the unwrapping of the two top layers has been done away with, and the judging of pack will take place before the papers are removed. All packs but the diagonal will be disqualified.

The show is to be held from October 27 to November 4. All entry forms and fees must be in the hands of the Fruit Branch, Ottawa, on or before Saturday, September 25. Exhibits must be delivered at the Exhibition Building, Crystal Palace, not later than October 23.

It is particularly desirable that British Columbia, as the latest of the United Kingdom in entering the Kingdom market, should be strongly represented at the show of 1922, and it is hoped that every effort will be put forth to this end. The Eastern Provinces and Ontario, in particular, will send forward full entries, and the Governments of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, recognizing that this is one of the best methods of advancing their respective provinces with a view to stimulating immigration, are giving the growers substantial financial assistance in sending forward their exhibits.

B.C. Apples on British Market

"British Columbia apples have only in the past four years been sent to the United Kingdom in quantities sufficient to be taken into serious consideration by the fruit trade," he continued. "and even of late they have formed a comparatively small proportion of the 2,000,000 or more Western boxed apples that are imported annually. The quantities received have, however, made an excellent impression upon the trade. The best brands are rapidly building up a clientele of appreciative purchasers, and all that is necessary to establish them firmly in the favorable estimation of the buyers is the carrying out of a steady policy in the direction of maintaining grade and pack standards at the highest possible level. It is gratifying to note that where they are best known they are most appreciated, and that it is in Glasgow, which has so far received the greatest proportion of our shipments, that there is the strongest call for more and the greatest disposition to accord to British Columbia apples the foremost place deserved by their general excellence. It must be emphasized, however, that they have to meet very keen competition from American brands of the highest quality and long established on the market, that they have not yet fully won their proper status in Great Britain and that, therefore, special efforts to give satisfaction by turning out a first class product are imperatively needed at this first stage in the exploitation of a comparatively new export field.

Commercial Uses.

"There is an immense field for commercial experiment and investigation in connection with various problems before the apple shipper to a distant market," Mr. Forsyth Smith stated. "It is felt that, in this connection more systematic use could be made of the presence of a Government representative on the British market, to note and report results. There are innumerable questions that could be looked into, and, in connection with which careful investigation should bring adequate rewards. The use of corrugated paper lining as a protection against frost, the suggestion made by a London house as to double papering 'Cox's orange and other high class soft varieties, and a host of others will, naturally, suggest themselves. There is a great unexploited field for scientific inquiry in connection with commercial problems, and there is every reason for believing the carefully conducted inquiry and experiment in this sphere would secure data of inestimable value to our shippers."

Mr. Forsyth Smith touched on the markets in France and Scandinavia, and indicated that his lecture course would include meetings in the Okanagan from July 15 onwards. He will later speak in the apple and pear exporting sections of Ontario, and then proceed to the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia.

He left for the mainland last evening, accompanied by Mr. Robertson.

LONG CONTRACTS AT PRESENT RATES

American-Hawaiian S.S. Co.
Signing With Shippers
For Year

San Francisco, July 11.—The William Diamond Company announced to-day that American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, for which the William Company is the representative, would sign contracts for a year at the present freight rates for the intercoastal trade. The contracts will be entered into with shippers who agree to deal exclusively with the American-Hawaiian line. The proposed contracts contain two elastic clauses which will enable shippers to get the benefit of further reductions in the rate war which started two weeks ago. In making the announcement, the company reaffirmed its former statement that all rate cuts made by competing lines would be met.

Raft Adrift.
A raft of 5,000,000 feet of lumber is adrift fifty miles due west of Eureka, according to a wireless message received by the Marine Department of the Chamber of Commerce. The raft was being towed from Eureka to San Francisco by the tug Sea Lion when heavy weather off the North California coast caused the tow line to break. The Sea Lion's message said she was standing by waiting an opportunity to take the raft in tow again.

MARINE GROWTH ON PUAKO SEVERAL FEET THICK NOW

Sailing Vessel to Be Dry-docked for Overhaul and Repairs

Ship Has Been Lying at Anchor Here for Over a Year

After lying at anchor in Constance Cove for fourteen months the American four-masted barquentine Puako is to be completely overhauled here and will at once be hauled out on the marine way at Yarrow's Ltd. It was announced to-day, Capt. George Harding, representing the San Francisco firm of Hind, Rolph & Co., owners of the Puako, is in the city conferring with Capt. Helms and making a survey of the vessel.

Here Over Year.

It was a year ago last May that the Puako arrived here, and although she has been open for charter, no charter has been found for her owing to the slack state of the market.

The hull of the Puako is very foul and is said to have several feet of weeds and barnacles clinging to the bottom.

Much of the marine growth was collected on her last voyage in tropical seas, the vessel not having been docked for the past two years.

ADMIRAL PHELPS
TO TAKE COMMAND OF YANG-TSE PATROL

Rear-Admiral W. W. Phelps, of the United States Navy, and formerly commander of the battleship Arizona, who left here on Saturday by the S. S. President Grant for the Orient, is bound to Shanghai where he will take command of the Yangtze patrol of the U. S. Asiatic fleet.

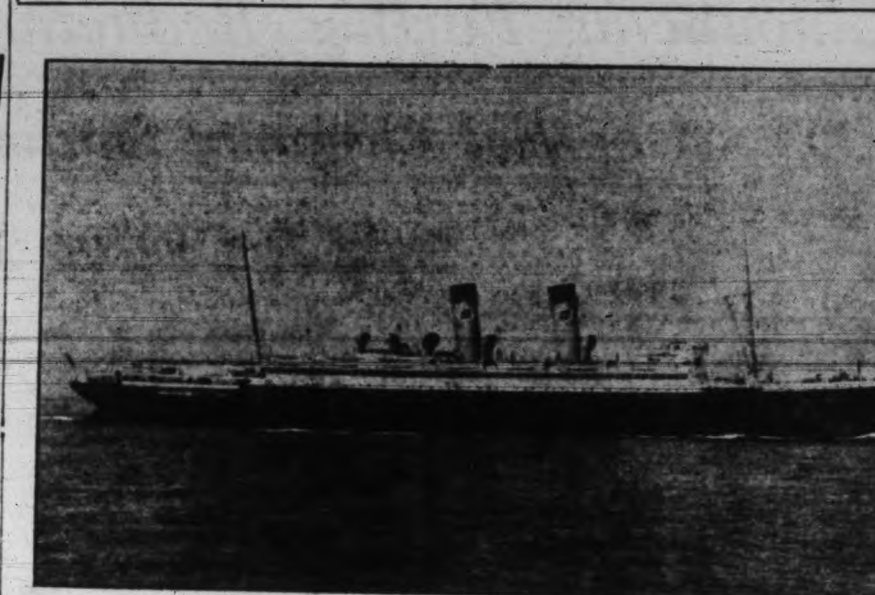

When he arrives at the Chinese port Admiral Phelps will relieve Rear-Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, who is to retire from the service.

NEW SECRETARY TO ENGINEER APPOINTED

Miss Hilda Wood has been appointed private secretary to City Engineer F. M. Preston in succession to Miss Mary Morton, who has tendered her resignation in preparation for her marriage early in August.

Miss Wood will assume her new duties August 1. She was appointed because of her excellent services in the Waterworks Department.

Crack Admiral Liner Makes Initial Call To-night

This 22-knotter is not an unknown quantity on the Pacific Coast, but to-night will be the first time that the former Great Northern has berthed at the Port of Victoria. Purchased by the Admiral Line for $1,250,000 from the United States Shipping Board, the H. F. Alexander, has been reconditioned at a cost of $500,000, and from Seattle to San Francisco every Tuesday night, sailing at 5 o'clock. Over one hundred of the 600 passengers going south on the first voyage of the H. F. Alexander under the flag of the Admiral Line, will embark at this port. The ship was scheduled to sail from Seattle at 5 p. m. to-day and will leave Pier 2 here at 10 p. m.

SAILER TOLMIE HEADS FOR SEA

The barquentine S. F. Tolmie, towed by the tug Commodore, is to depart from this port at 4.30 o'clock, standard time, this morning, headed for sea. The vessel carries 1,500,000 feet of lumber, loaded at Hastings Mills, and is bound for Australia.

OFFICERS ON U.S. PASSENGER LINERS WILL GET INCREASE

Re-classification of Vessels; Leviathan's Skipper to Get $7,500 a Year

Wages of officers serving in American Government passenger ships are to be advanced as a result of conferences recently held between Shipping Board officials and representatives of the Neptune Association and Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, reports from Washington state.

A re-classification of the vessels was arrived at with the 52,000-ton liner Leviathan heading the list. Then comes in order the steamer George Washington, America, the 535-class of ships and the 522 class. On a basis of the old scale of wages of 20,000-ton ship's classification, the advance said to have been agreed upon will average about 20 per cent.

According to the report, a wage scale has also been fixed for masters. The man who will command the Leviathan when she is ready for service will receive $7,500 a year, and the mates $250 a month down to $170.

The wage scale for the master of the George Washington was put at $6,500; the America, $6,000; the 535-foot vessels, $5,000, and the 522-foot vessels, $4,500.

It is stated that the new wage scale will be announced soon, with wages of the masters of these ships being in proportion and the pay of the engineers and their assistants on a similar scale with those of the deck officers.

ENGINEER ON GRANT FACTOR IN KEEPING SS. CROOK AFLOAT

When the S. S. President Grant sailed for the Orient on Saturday she carried among her crew George Hart, who was cited by the United States War department for services in the marine accident last winter which nearly resulted in the loss of the transport Crook, bound from Hamburg for New York with 1,300 American troops on board. The transport commenced to leak badly when half way across the Atlantic and took water so fast that she seemed in danger of foundering. Hart, employed as a junior engineer, stayed by his pumps for over fifty hours without relief, being one of the few men in the ship's crew who thoroughly understood the pump mechanism. His citation asserts that due to his conscientious attention to duty the ship was enabled to keep sufficiently clear of water to remain afloat.

PEOPLE ATTRACTED BY TRANS-CANADA

"Everybody is asking about the Trans-Canada," said a Canadian Pacific official to-day after getting clear of a flood of inquiries by people eager to make fast time and intentionally sandwich in some stopovers.
"The Trans-Canada is the quickest train across the continent and saves eighteen hours between Vancouver and Montreal." The demand for space on this train is heavy.

TWO SHIPS WILL MAKE QUARANTINE AT SAME HOUR

Blue Funnel Liner Talthybius
and N.Y.K. Liner Iyo Maru
Here To-morrow

The Blue Funnel liner Talthybius and the Japanese liner Iyo Maru are scheduled to reach quarantine simultaneously to-morrow, information reaching the ship's agents to-day to the effect that both carriers will arrive at William Head at 10 o'clock in the morning. The Talthybius is running a full day ahead of her schedule.

Neck and Neck.

Running neck and neck with her is the Japanese liner Iyo Maru. Captain Hirata, of the latter ship, reported by wireless to-day that he expected to make quarantine by 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

Whether the Talthybius or the Iyo Maru makes the station first remains to be seen. The first ship showing up around the Race will demand the attention of the quarantine doctors and will be the first vessel to come alongside about to-morrow noon, local time.

The Iyo Maru has two cabin and eight steerage for this port, and 24 cabin and 21 steerage for Seattle. The Talthybius also carried cabin and steerage passengers in addition to cargo.

DARDANUS NEXT WEEK.

The freighter Dardanus, of the Blue Funnel fleet, has arrived at San Francisco from the United Kingdom via the Panama Canal. She is expected to arrive here early next week.

RECORD STANDS IN RAW SILK MOVEMENT

The Canadian Pacific Bulletin has the following to say about the previous trans-Pacific voyage of the liner Empress of Russia and the record time made in the delivery of her silk shipment in New York:

"A record in the transshipment of silk from Japan to New York was recently made by the C. P. R. On April 29, the Canadian left Yokohama carrying in her cargo 3,000 bales of silk for New York. Two minutes later the Bay State, another Pacific liner, left a near-by dock with 1,500 bales of silk bound for the same destination. It was a race across the Pacific Ocean and the American continent and shipping men of two continents watched for the result. On arrival at Vancouver the Empress of Russia silk was placed on a special train to New York. The silk was delivered there at 5.30 p. m. May 12, while the cargo of the Bay State was delivered 7.30 a. m. May 15, the Canadian Pacific through time from Yokohama to New York having been 63 hours and 1 minute faster than that of the rival line, and a record between these two points was thus established. Despite the fact that it was a 17-car train, the time consumed between Vancouver and Prescott, Ontario, was only 3 days 17 hours and 57 minutes.

The Bay State has since been renamed the President Madison.

THE FORD MOTOR AS A MARINE UNIT

After a number of exhaustive experiments, lasting for a number of weeks, during which time Ford engineers duplicated as nearly as possible actual marine conditions, we are able to supply full information and specifications to prospective purchasers of light marine engines.

The result of these severe running tests has again proved the adaptability of the Ford motor for marine use.

WARD TWO SAANICH GARDENERS' EXHIBIT

Sixth Show Will Be Held on September 2

The Cottage Gardeners of Ward Two, Saanich, will stage their sixth annual exhibition in St. Mark's Hall on September 2. In spite of the adverse season the reports are that exhibits will be up to the average and a good showing is expected. The prize list just issued by the executive is an advancement on its predecessors, and is admirable in every respect. Some new features have been introduced, notably the competition for the best collection of vegetables of six varieties, open only to those who have not competed for a collection previously. This ought to be a great encouragement to the amateurs to try their prentice hand. There is also a special in potatoes, three varieties, open to all comers. Residents outside the ward will be able to take advantage of this event. All other exhibits are confined to residents in Ward Two. In addition to the usual lines of vegetables there is a fruit and flower section, including a collection of small fruits. Some beautiful fruit is shown in Ward Two, especially peaches and nectarines, and the exhibits of these are always worth going to see. Last year the ladies' section was one of the features of the show; this year, according to the ladies' executive, it is to go one better. In the children's section opportunity is given the boys and girls to show their prowess in the matter of collections and vegetables, articles made at manual training and collection of wild grasses. The judging will probably be done by W. H. Robertson, Provincial Horticulturalist. Copies of the prize list may be had from members of the committee as follows: J. C. Richards (resi-

LEAVE TO APPEAL GRANTED COQUITLAM

Municipality Will Take Action to Supreme Court of Canada

Leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada direct from a jury trial in the Supreme Court of British Columbia was granted on a motion by J. W. de B. Farris, K. C., in the Appeal Court this morning in the hearing of Wilson and others versus the Municipality of Coquitlam. The plaintiffs—respondent are five residents of the district in whose favor judgments have been given in connection with the quashing of convictions under a by-law, the offences alleged arising out of construction of chimneys allegedly in a manner that constituted a breach of the ordinance. The sum of $75,000 is involved, it was stated, the matter being a test case. On behalf of the municipality Mr. Farris announced that if leave were not granted, the matter would be raised again as an appeal to the Fall Court, and then to the Supreme Court of Canada. The motion was a shorter method, he pointed out. Mr. Bird, for the respondents, opposed the motion on the ground that the Appeal Court had already ruled on the material subject of the motion. The application was granted in an unanimous decision of the court. Mr. Justice Martin presided in the absence of Chief Justice Macdonald. The hearing of Farquharson versus the C. P. R. will follow.

ISSUES WARNING TO ENTHUSIASTS

Municipal Councils Asked to Supervise Installation of Radio-telephones

"The fire hazard knows no fence line" is the warning given in a circular to the city and district municipal councils by the Victoria District Fire Insurance Agents' Association, asking the councils to supervise the installation of amateur radio sets, and to secure adequate inspection of them.

While pointing out that there is no intention to dampen the enthusiasm of those who have made a hobby of radio messages, the association points out there is a grave danger both to the residents and to the neighbor's premises when installations have been made by inexperienced persons. The letter, a copy of which was read at the Oak Bay Council last evening, is worded as follows:

"At the last monthly meeting of this association I was directed to draw the attention of the Victoria City Council and of the municipal councils to the possibility of a growing number of radio-telephones erected, chiefly of amateur make.

"It is not for the purpose of making a scare of the situation or unduly frightening people that we ask you to consider this question. A large number of people whose previous electrical experience embraces chiefly the operation of replacing a burned-out lamp are conducting sundry experiments with radio apparatus, many being dangerous. In the daily papers one will find instructions how to make such apparatus for young people. Even if the lightning hazard is eliminated by the installation of indoor apparatus, yet other dangers are left.

Danger of Fire

"Many people do not realize that the six-volt storage battery, such as numbers of enthusiasts are using to light the filaments of their electron tubes, is capable of starting a serious fire. It has done so more than once. Recharging such a battery from the electric light current in the home adds also to the risk of fire, as do recently ill-considered attempts to receive messages via the house lighting circuit. The presence of radio apparatus, with the necessary wiring—installed more often than not without expert advice—increases the potential hazard of crossed wires already existing from lighting installations.

"Every amateur radio receiving station should be set up in accordance with proper municipal authority and under expert electrical guidance. The same should be inspected from time to time by the marshal and all installations should be registered at the Municipal Hall.

"We do not wish to dampen in the slightest the ardor of the budding minds who are getting enthusiastically over their radios. Numerous inventions, especially in the early stages of development, increase some way or degree the hazard of fire. Fire insurance policy holders are aware, of course, that according to the terms of their contract, alterations in the status of the risk, such as an increase in the hazard made without the consent of the insurer, automatically voids the policy. Besides this, the neighbors, often the innocent sufferers, are to be considered. The fire hazard knows no line fence.

"As one of the greatest objects of this association is that of fire prevention, we would greatly appreciate an initiative action on the part of your body whereby the dangers ensuing from the installation of amateur radio-telephones may be eliminated by the suggestions contained in this letter."

Visit Cemetery Site—Alderman Reginald Hayward accompanied the Natural History Society to Royal Oak to conduct the tour through the new cemetery site, where clearing of the grounds is taking place. The cemetery has natural beauties, and with the clearing of the land and the leaving of some of the beautiful trees standing, a most attractive spot will be acquired. Pools of water are to be left as they are with the exception of turning them into lily ponds, while the buying of a few extra acres will afford ample room for a suitable driveway. A very suitable spot is the picturesque hill on the north side of the cemetery for open air funeral services, while a splendid and commanding view of the country can be obtained from this point of vantage.

RACING ROORBACK ATTACKS LEEMING

All Aldermen Receive Crude Poem, Assailing Racing Opponent

When city aldermen took their places in the City Council chamber last night they found on their desks an envelope addressed to each. Inside was a piece of paper bearing three crude verses in which Alderman David Leeming's opposition to racing was coarsely attacked. The roorback made a number of low, personal insinuations about Alderman Leeming, all written in badly-rhymed doggerel. Copies of the roorback had been left on every desk except that used by Alderman Leeming.

Members of the Council were unable to find out who had been responsible for the roorback. They said they could not understand how copies of the verses had reached their desks.

Mayor Marchant this afternoon called off the special Council meeting called for Thursday afternoon, when he planned to ask the aldermen

STARTING TO MAKE VICTORIA ROSE CITY

Roses to Be Planted on Squares and Boulevards

As the preliminary step in making Victoria rose city, roses will be planted in various squares here in the Fall, it was announced at the City Council to-day. This year rose plants will be placed at Oak Bay Junction, at the intersection of Government and Douglas Streets, at the north end of the Causeway and at other convenient points. Next year some of the best boulevards in the city will be planted with roses, and in the course of a few years the whole city, it is hoped, will be decked with a profusion of roses.

This is one of Alderman R. W. Ferry's ideas. He got the inspiration for it during a recent visit to Portland, Oregon, where he represented Victoria at the rose carnival. He has managed to persuade his colleagues that the idea is a good one.

Hutchison Makes Phenomenal Score

Former British Titleholder Shoots Thirty-Six Holes In Qualifying Round For U. S. Open Championship In 135 One of Best Records In History of Game; Most Perfect Exhibition of Golf Ever Seen; Biggest Stars All Qualify.

Skokie Country Club, Glencoe, Ill., July 10.—Jock Hutchison, former British open champion, was the sensation of the opening round of the play for the United States open championship here yesterday. The Chicago professional turned in the amazing score of 135 for 36 holes. His morning score was 67 and he repeated with a 68 in the afternoon.

One hundred and eight golfers from all parts of the world fought through 36 holes for a chance in the finals Thursday and Friday, with only 27 reaching the goal.

The end of the day found all of the national and international stars shooting within the coveted circle, although a few had narrow escapes, and a new record for two rounds of qualifying play made by Jock Hutchison.

Most of the morning scores were rather high because of a heavy rain on Sunday night. This rain, while making the course soggy at the start, left it in perfect shape through most of the day, but the golfers had been used to the concrete-like fairways and found no trouble in judging distance when there was no roll on the ball. In the afternoon, a majority settled into their natural stride and the golf seen by the several thousand spectators who paid an admission fee of $1, the best of the first time an admission fee has been charged, was of the type read about but seldom witnessed. Beautiful drives, long putts, missed approaches, pitches dead to the cup and seemingly impossible recoveries from traps and bunkers were among the shots which the clubs produced.

When Hutchison went out in his morning round he had only a small gallery, nearly everyone following the Barnes-Evans play. But when the news of Jock's 67 spread around he immediately became an attraction and, contrary to tradition, in the second round repeated his wonderful morning play.

One Perfect Shot After Another. In this 35 holes Jock hung up one eagle, nine birds, three on-par holes and was over par five times. He started out by topping a drive and then going into a trap for a six and the par four first. The rest of his morning round was just one perfect shot after another, none of them spectacular but each a masterpiece. Approaches went dead to the cup, drives were straight toward the flags and every putt was just one perfect five feet on the tenth which rimmed the cup. Jock made the first nine in 34 and was three under with a 33 on the second.

In the afternoon the little professional again started out with more than par for the first hole, taking a five when his birdie pitch caught a sand trap. Then he settled down to pars and birdies and had another 34 for the nine. Starting the twenty-eighth, he never was in trouble, missing a birdie on the tenth when his putt hung on the lip of the cup. On the thirty-second he sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie three and on the thirty-third he pitched the 30-inch putt six inches from the pin. On another birdie 3. On the 35th Jock's drive was under a tree and he could take only a three-quarter swing but he sent the ball 290 yards to the green and got a par four.

Gallery Called His Shots. Coming up the home stretch with the crowd cheering every shot, Hutchison started with a perfect 250-yard drive and then the 200-yard drive 20 feet from the cup. As he stepped up to sight for the putt, some one yelled:

"Sink it Jock, old boy!"

"All right, sir, I'll certainly do that," came back in Jock's Scotch brogue, and he sent the ball curving along the side hill slope into the cup for an eagle 3.

Mike Brady, the Detroit shooter who turned in a 142, was paired with Jock and he said afterwards that Jock's great play was such an incentive that he just had to shoot well himself.

Barnes Played Well. Jim Barnes, who is defending his title, played a brilliant game. It was not perfect play for Jim, but his spectacular recoveries kept the gallery in an uproar.

Time after time he hooked a drive into the rough, only to get out with a long iron shot. Many of his approaches caught sand-traps twenty and thirty yards from the green but almost invariably Barnes would send his out straight for the cup and need only one putt to sink. On the 21st Barnes' drive was on the side of a bunker in a patch of sand and behind a tuft of heavy matted grass. Standing three feet lower than the ball, Jim came around with a side arm swipe and the ball went 215 yards straight to the green. "That was a sample of the shots he was making all day."

"Chick" Evans paired with Barnes, shot a nice 75 in the morning, making the last nine in par 36. He had only a few bad shots, the worst being a missed 18-inch putt on the ninth.

"Chick" Was All Over. In the afternoon "Chick" sent his drive on the par three twenty into a sand pit and took four. On the next hole, par four, he put his approach into a sand pit and took two to get out, totalling a six. Having thus developed an unintentional fondness for the sand, "Chick" put his approach on the twenty-second into another pit, took two to get out,

Wonder When This Human Fish Will Stop Breaking Records?

Sacramento, July 11.—Johnny Weissmuller, world champion swimmer from the Illinois Athletic Club, broke another record last night at the Riverside Club here, when he finished the 500 metre swim in 6.42 3-5, breaking the old record by nine seconds.

Lynch's Left Arm Knocks Off Buff's Bantam Crown

New York, July 11.—Joe Lynch, cool and laughing, held out a good left arm last night and permitted Johnny Buff to knock off his own crown—the bantamweight championship of the world.

In the beginning Lynch ripped a cinder block from the floor and then on it was the challenger's fight. It was apparent in the early rounds, when Buff found himself unable to put that long left arm of his into the devastating short blows to land the ribs, that it was one of those rare occasions where an ex-champion comes back.

Few Achieve Honor. These times have been few though dozens have tried it. One of the most notable in memory was that of Stanley Ketchell, who took a licking from Billy Papke and afterwards gave a beating to his conqueror.

However, Buff and Lynch never had met. Lynch lost his title to Pete Herman and the New Orleans boy had failed before the "Jersey Skeeter."

The feature match of the night was the championship fight between Walter Hagen, United States, who recently won the British open championship, tied up with Geo. Duncan, internationally known British pro and tied for runner-up to Hagen in the British open.

rimmed the cup with a 30-foot putt, missed the next one 18 inches and finally sank in seven. On the twenty-fourth he sent a beautiful first putt was seven feet short, his second four feet over and his third in for five against par four.

The twenty-sixth found "Chick" with a 15-foot putt for a birdie three, but he was ten feet short, managing to sink the long second one for four. He drove into the sand pit on the twenty-seventh, was way over on the second, lodged the ball on the cup's lip for his third and again had four on a par three hole, totalling 42 for the nine holes. Then he pulled himself together and made his 35 on the second hole.

Strange Exhibition. "Chick" collapse and recovery in the afternoon was perhaps the strangest exhibition ever given by a famous golfer. His only comment was "I just couldn't get my right for a while."

Most of the spectators found more interest in keeping a match play score on Evans and Barnes than in the medal totals. Had it been a match play affair Barnes would have won three and two. "Chick" was one up at 18 holes and had the morning round been a complete match would have won it two and one. The afternoon collapse left him no chance against "Long Jim."

Par totals were few for the course to-day was extremely difficult. The second batch of would-be quakers will go out to-day. Among those who will play are Walter Hagen, of Detroit, present British open champion, who will be paired with George Duncan, tied for runner-up to him in the British open; Gens Sarazen, of Pittsburgh, who shot a 66 in a practice round; Bobby Jones, junior, of Atlanta; Leo Diegel, of New Orleans; Jessie Guilford, of Boston, national amateur champion; Fred Wright, of Los Angeles, and S. Davis Hickey, of Chicago, former national amateur champion.

Those Who Qualified. Following are the names and scores of the 27 players who qualified yesterday from a field of 108 for the first in the national open golf tournament:

Jock Hutchison, Chicago, 135. Mike Brady, Detroit, 143. R. A. Barnes, Pelham Manor, N. Y., 144. Abe Mitchell, England, 144. William Creavey, Kansas City, Mo., 145. Joe Kirkwood, Australia, 146. Larry Nagholt, Lima, C., 147. Charles H. Hoffman, Philmont, Pa., 148. Mortie Dutra, Belmonte, Calif., 148. J. E. Rogers, Dayton, O., 148. Otto Hackarth, Cincinnati, 149. Jack Hakelee, Muncie, Del., 148. Cyril Walker, Englewood, N. J., 149. Lloyd Gullickson, Dekalb, Ill., 150. Frank Kennett, Glencoe, Ill., 150. "P. P. Courch, Jr., Chicago, 151. Jack Croke, Birmingham, Ala., 150. Thomas Harmon, Hudson, N. Y., 151. William McFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., 151. "Chick" Evans, Chicago, 151. Dow L. George, Minneapolis, 152. "P. P. Courch, Jr., Chicago, 152. Fred Ford, Kansas City, 152. Henry Bolesla, Palma Ceia, Fla., 152. Alex. Campbell, Cincinnati, 152. George McLean, Grassy Sprain, N. Y., 152. A. F. Baumgartner, Cincinnati, 153. "Amateurs."

Some Who Failed. Among the well-known players who just failed to qualify were: Robert Gardner, of Chicago, former national amateur champion, 154; Alex Smith, New London, Conn., 150; who had held several titles, 153; Joe Mathews, of Kansas City, Mo., 153, and Phil Gaudin, of Chicago, 154.

Few Penalties. The penalty list was rather light, only seven rears being handed out by Referee Johnny Howard. Everett McLaren was the only offender to draw more than a three minute rest. The Terminal captain took a cut at Storme in the second quarter, which caused the referee to bench him for ten minutes.

The Royals went through the entire game without a substitution.

George Cook Given Decision Over Soldier Jones, Who Was Favorite

London, July 11.—George Cook, Australian heavyweight, defeated "Soldier" Jones, of Canada, in a bout here on points, with a right hand punch to the chin.

The Holland Park Ring was crowded and Jones ruled a 3 to 1 favorite at the start.

Cook did most of the work at the outset, scoring with rights and lefts to the face. Jones landed a right to the head, but repeatedly failed to connect.

Cook Too Clever. In the third round the Canadian pushed Cook down and on the Australian rising his opponent missed with vicious right swing. Cook was a little difficultly hit by Jones' Canadian's swings and upper cuts.

Jones occasionally fought well, sending in good straight left to the face in the fourth round the Canadian staggered Cook with a right upper cut, but failed to follow it up quickly enough. Cook had the better of the in-fighting, frequently driving his opponent back.

Jones continued to try hard for a knockout, but Cook fought warily to the end and deserved the verdict given in his favor.

WINNIEPOT TRAP SHOOTERS. Winnipeg, July 11.—Five members of the Assiniboine Club of Winnipeg, in charge of Johnny Black, will represent Winnipeg at the championship trap shooting tournament to be held at Regina on July 23 and 24. The winner of the meet gets a free trip to the Grand American Handicap event in August.

GREB HOLDS TITLE IN MUSTING BOUT. Philadelphia, July 11.—Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, successfully defended his light heavyweight title last night in an eight round bout with Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, a middleweight. Loughran did fairly well in the first two rounds, but after that the champion had the better of the argument.

The fight was fast and rough. In the first two rounds the local boxer's speed bothered Greb, but his blows apparently lacked steam. In the third round the Pittsburgher cut loose and from then until the end of the fight he had Loughran at his mercy. Greb made no effort at boxing science, but struck from every direction. He hit Loughran on all parts of his body from the waist up and kept up the bombardment continually.

Loughran was game and made a gallant stand. He tried to fight back, but the champion's speed was bewildering.

In the preliminary Joe Benjamin, California, won on a foul in the third round of a scheduled eight-round bout with George Erne, of Buffalo.

Paul France, San Francisco, easily defeated Jimmy Hanlon, Denver, in eight rounds.

MANAGERS MEET EVEN IF FIGHTERS WON'T. New York, July 11.—Jack Kearns and Paddy Mullins, who handle the destinies of Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, arranged to meet to-day in an effort to arrive at an agreement for the pending heavyweight boxing championship match between the titleholder and his negro challenger.

Kingsley Is Ready. George Kingsley, of Shawanigan Lake, is in pink condition and will row in the senior singles. He won the singles in Vancouver last year when he was not conceded a chance. In the regatta he will be a losing race, but after Dan O'Sullivan had re-rigged his boat, George went out and pulled a phenomenal race in the senior singles, surprising everyone.

Kingsley will pair with Cummins in the senior doubles. They should make a splendid showing. Bobbie Travis will row with him in the junior doubles. If the latter crew should win the junior doubles they may venture in the senior doubles and win.

Portland and Vancouver will be strongly represented at the regatta. The junior events will be held on Friday of next week with the seniors rowing on Saturday.

Local Representatives. A. H. Cox and R. Fraser will be the Victoria officials at the regatta. While Bob Travis and Arthur Cox will be the delegates to the annual meeting of the N. P. A. A. O. Bill Day, secretary-treasurer of the N. P. A. A. O., had not received the entries from Vancouver and Portland this morning but expects them in to-day's mail.

SCIENTIFIC SETTLING

That is What Canon Hinchliffe Tells McBride Conservatives Should Be Rule in British Columbia.

The lot of the settler in this country is not a happy one and is, in fact, quite heartbreaking. H. W. R.
Moore told McBride Conservatives at their meeting last night. He said that unless something was done to improve things, British Columbia could not hope to compete against Australia in getting British immigration.

Canon Hinchliffe declared that no man should be allowed to settle on lands that would not repay for the cost of clearing. He said expert advice should be given on this.

"Replace immigration agents by experts who can scientifically handle settlement of the lands and results will be secured," said the Canon.
Henry Callow told of the possibilities of fruit and seed growing on Vancouver Island.

Alfred Petch, president, urged a drive for increased membership in the McBride Club.

EXPECTS HEAVY TOURIST TRAVEL

Tourist travel from the western provinces to the Coast next winter will be the heaviest in history, according to J. Carl Pendray, President of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, who returned to the city yesterday after a tour of the prairies. The crops in the West will be excellent this fall, judging by present indications, Mr. Pendray pointed out, and farmers will have money to spend on vacations here.
Mr. Pendray will leave for Portland, Oregon, to-day to attend the convention of the National Paint Association.

PRESTON ANSWERS BRIDGE QUESTIONS

Gives Details of Construction Costs in Answer to Perry

City Engineer F. M. Preston last night handed to the City Council his answers to the numerous Johnson Street bridge questions asked by Alderman R. W. Perry. Mr. Preston's statements follow:

(1) Q. What was the amount named in the engineer's tender for substructure work in connection with the construction of the Johnson Street bridge?

A. The summation of the City Engineer's schedule estimate for carrying out the work by day labor was $177,376.

(2) Q. What work did this cover?

A. The construction of part of the east abutment, the whole of the counterweight trunnion pier, part of the main trunnion pier, the whole of the rest pier, and the whole of the west abutment.

(3) Q. How much has this portion of the bridge cost the city in excess of the Engineer's tender?

A. About $36,457.14, but this figure cannot be ascertained accurately until all the equipment is disposed of,
but at the same time $31,922.86 was saved to the city by doing the work by day labor, or this portion of the work would have cost the city $62,380 in excess of the Engineer's tender if it had been done by contract.

(4) Q. Is this work now complete?

A. Yes.

(5) Q. Give particulars of cost of engineering, material, labor etc.

A. East abutment, $15,189.13;
counterweight trunnion pier, $57,155.95;
main trunnion pier, $37,535.18;
rest pier, $45,271.07; west abutment,
$24,479.14; engineering, contract No.
1, $3,011.64; erecting equipment,
$7,023.50; supervision, $2,503.29.

Totals.
East abutment, $15,189.13;
Counterweight trunnion pier, $57,155.95;
Main trunnion pier, $37,535.18;
Rest pier, $45,271.07;
West abutment, $24,479.14;
Engineering contract, $3,011.64;
Erecting equipment, $7,023.50;
Supervision, $2,503.29;
Share of equipment, $5,591.14;
Totals, $208,102.47.

Approximately $207,832.14.

(6) Q. Did the City Engineer, during the year 1921, when the work was proceeding, make periodical reports to the City Council, respecting the progress of the work?

A. Yes. To the streets committee.

(7) Q. If such reports were made, did they indicate that the cost of the work was likely to exceed the sums named in the City Engineer's tender or otherwise?

A. No.

(8) Q. Did the City Engineer at any time during the year 1921, indicate to the City Council, or any
of its members, that the cost of this work was likely to exceed the sum named in his tender? If not, why not?

A. No. The greater part of the excess cost of the actual work over the estimate was taken up in the rest pier which was only commenced late in 1921 and not completed until this year.

(9) Q. Respecting the excess cost of the superstructure of the Johnson Street bridge, the City Engineer (Mr.
Preston) has referred to the original estimate of the cost of the bridge prepared by him in 1919, said:
"No drawings had been made and the original estimate was simply a guess." With respect to the drawings, was the above statement correct?

A. Yes. No detail drawings from which actual estimates could be accurately prepared had been made.

(10) Q. While there were, as yet, probably no working plans, were not drawings of the bridge prepared by Mr. Preston himself, and submitted for approval to the City Council, the Provincial Government, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company?

A. A general plan or picture on which were shown the main dimensions, lengths and widths had been prepared.

(11) Q. In making his drawings and preparing his original estimates as City Engineer, restricted by the then City Council in the matter of cost or design, or did he have a free hand, the Council indicating confidence in the City Engineer's ability to handle the work?

A. Yes. The bascule type of bridge
had to be of bascule design and located in such a position that the E.
& N. Railway Company could use it, but on November 1, 1919, the City Engineer advised the City Council that the $100,000 offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was entirely inadequate to cover the cost of their share of the bridge, and suggesting to the City Council the advisability of taking up seriously the question of an entirely city-owned bridge upon the line of Johnson Street.

(12) Q. When the by-law providing for the construction of the bridge was referred to the ratepayers in January, 1920, had it not previously been decided that the plan of the bridge would be the same as now being constructed, the movable span to be, as now, of the bascule type?

A. Yes. The bascule type of bridge had been decided upon, but not the type of bascule, there being then, as now, two main types, namely Strauss and Scherzer to choose from.

(13) Q. What was the adoption of the Strauss type of bascule now being put in place, finally cost the city?

A. $376,450, including Strauss' royalty and engineering fees and the fees of the inspecting firm taking care of this work at the places of manufacture and fabrication.

(14) Q. Give details of the Strauss charges?

A. Ten per cent of the contract price of the bascule portion of the superstructure. The total fees will amount to $34,125.

"A Guess."

(15) Q. Respecting the statement in Mr. Preston's letter that, "The original estimate was simply a guess." Did the City Engineer, during the year 1919, when the Johnson Street bridge project was finally put in shape, inform the then City Council, the Provincial Government, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that his estimate of the cost of the structure was "simply a guess."

A. No, but all concerned were perfectly aware of what was said

available and also as to the uncertainty of any estimates prepared at that time. No estimate can be anything more than a guess unless the actual quantities and prices for materials are known.

(16) Q. What does the City Engineer expect the ratepayers of the city to think of their being asked in January, 1920, to vote for a by-law authorizing such an expensive undertaking as the Johnson Street bridge, and then to be told by the City Engineer, in a letter that:
"No drawings had been made, and the original estimate was simply a guess."

A. With all due respect to Alderman Perry, I do not consider that this question is one that I should be asked to answer, and I think that the ratepayers answered it themselves
when the second Johnson Street Bridge By-Law was put before them.

Excess Costs.
(8) Q. Did the City Engineer at any time during the year 1921, indicate to the City Council, or any
of its members, that the cost of this
work was likely to exceed the sum
named in his tender? If not, why

excess cost of the actual work over

CHILDREN STILL GET DIRTY MILK HERE, HAYWARD CHARGES

Continual Warnings Fail to Improve Conditions,
He Says

Dirty milk is still being served to children in one public school, in spite of many warnings by the health authorities, Alderman Hayward told the City Council last night after examining the monthly report of City Health Officer Dr. Price.

"There is still dirty milk being served," Alderman Hayward declared. "The matter should be taken up again. One of the schools is still receiving dirty milk. The Chapter of the I. O. D. E. which is supplying this milk should be notified again about the matter. They have been notified time and again and they seem inclined to defend the dairy. Dr.
Price has continually warned them
but every time he tests this dairy's milk he seems to get dirty milk from them."

TO HOLD WATCHING BRIEF AT MEETINGS

Oak Bay Will Be Represented at Greater Victoria Committee Sessions

Oak Bay Council, while declining to be officially represented on the Greater Victoria committee, determined last evening to appoint a representative, not a member, of the Council, to watch the municipality's interest. The choice of a representative will be made later.

The treasurer reported tax collections of $165,025, out of $186,210 by July 1, or 84.1 per cent of the levy, as compared with $175,151, or 82.9 per cent, of the levy of $211,289 in the corresponding period of 1921. Of $42,- 667 outstanding in arrears and delinquent taxes on January 1, 25.9 per cent, has been collected in the last six months.

The Council named J. Vaughan
Roberts as its representative on the Jubilee Hospital Board.

The request of the Navy League that tacking on the Oak Bay beaches on July 15 was granted.

ORGANIZE FOR MUSICAL EVENT

The fourth Annual Musical Festival of New Westminster will probably be held during the last week of February next, and will surpass all previous efforts of the kind in the city. If enthusiasm and a desire to work are indications of success it will not be long before this festival will rival those held in the larger cities of the East and the Old Country. At a meeting recently held in the city hall and well attended by representatives of the various public-spirited bodies, organization, with exception of the election of secretary, was completed. The members of the various committees which will start work immediately are: Syllabus, Charles Openshaw, Thomas B.
Pearson, F. M. Watts, Mrs. Joseph
Stevens and Miss Janet Gilley.

Publicity—Arthur Millidge, Mrs.
Paul Smith and Miss Westcott.

Finance—W. H. Keary, W. J.
Groves, J. E. Brown.

The executive will consist of the chairman of the various committees
and His Honor Judge F. W. Howay.
The Mayor is ex officio chairman of all committees.

The objects of the festival are: To encourage the development of musical, dramatic and terpsichorean talent; to induce a wider and more general appreciation of those arts and to afford to students an opportunity of ascertaining the quality of their work by the judgment of eminent professors.

PICNIC ON SATURDAY

A whole holiday on Saturday has been granted to those attending the picnic of the Victoria branch of the Provincial Civil Service Association at Deep Bay.

A sports programme of thirty-two events will be run off. Sixteen of these events are open to members of the association in good standing only,
and sixteen are open to all other civil servants and their friends.

Every purchaser of a ticket is entitled to participate in the tombola, for which valuable prizes have been donated.

There will be dancing after supper.

NAME BRIDGE OPERATORS

The City Council last night appointed A. F. Fraser chief operator of the new Johnson Street Bridge. F.
W. Patton will be principal operator and P. Carroll second assistant.

Reports of the Inspector and the Medical Health Officer were read by the secretary. The latter reported the opinion that the school was over-crowded. There are over 40 children on the roll, with an average attendance of 37. Two estimates were presented by the secretary. The first, which provided for one teacher, was an estimate of $720. The second, which provided for two teachers—a principal and a junior teacher—with the cost of renovating and making over the old schoolhouse into a useful schoolroom, included, was $1,250.

With a recommendation that a second teacher be procured. It was then moved by W. O. Sweetman and seconded by Mrs. T. F. Helgesen that the committee be authorized to "as before." The vote was taken by ballot and the motion was lost, thereupon it was moved by T. Barclay, seconded by H. A. Baxter, that a second teacher be procured, and that the trustees be estimated with regard to the plan be accepted. The motion was carried by a good majority.

School Nurse.

It was moved by H. R. Hammond and seconded by W. L. Whitney-Griffiths that the sum of $150 be added to the school assessment for the purpose of partial payment of a school nurse's salary.

After considerable discussion during which several of the leading men in the district spoke for or against it, the motion was carried by a majority of five, 33 voting for the motion and 23 against it. During all balloting
R. Gibbs acted as returning officer and T. Pullan and G. Weir as scrutineers, by appointment of the chair.

Taxation.

It was decided that the Farmers' Institute should be asked to hold a public meeting and invite the Attorney-General and Hon. J. D. McLean to be present, to discuss with the public the matter of taxation, the opinion of the majority of the people being that the taxes, particularly the school tax, should be equalized householders' tax being suggested.

The question as to whether the school should be run on standard time or Summer time was decided by vote in favor of Summer time until October 1.

On motion the trustees were requested to meet the trustees of Albert Head School to discuss the advisability of uniting the two.

The meeting then adjourned with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

Votes Taken.

The matter of the payment of a school nurse's salary by taxation was brought forward at all school meetings throughout the districts served during the past three years by the public Health Nurse. The following districts have adopted the system in addition to Metchosis: Colwood, Luxton, Happy Valley, Highlands and Goldstream. Langford voted against the motion. The location of Rocky Point is not known. At Albert Head it was discussed, some misunderstanding regarding the time of meeting intervening, when the attendance of a sufficient number of ratepayers.

Happy Valley School

At the Happy Valley annual school meeting between fifty and sixty ratepayers were present. Nominations for trustees were called for, there being two vacancies to fill, one because
A. Rhode had resigned before his term of office expired. The following names were placed before the voters: For the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. Rhode, R. Richards and Mr. Marshall; for the vacancy automatically caused by A. Hankin's term of office having expired, A. Hankin and Mr. Higham. A ballot was taken in each case and the chairman, Mr.
Baker, declared A. Hankin elected by a majority of thirty-two and R. Richards by a majority of twenty-seven.

W. W. Winter was elected auditor for the ensuing year, and after a vote of thanks had been passed to the chairman the meeting adjourned.

MUSICAL RECITAL

(Times Correspondence.)
Langford, July 10.—A very pleasing and instructive musical recital was given by the pupils of Mrs. M. Simson, A. R. M. Lodge, Eng., in the open on Friday. The grounds were very tastefully decorated for the occasion. There was a very good attendance of parents and friends, there being between fifty and sixty present.
The different items showed that the pupils had had careful training and also that they had worked faithfully between lessons. There had been keen competition for the prize in theory, which was won by Muriel Pearson.

The solo of the afternoon was rendered in a very finished style
by Miss M. Dick.

The dances were especially enjoyed by everybody, and great credit is due to Miss Phyllis Sutton, assistant school teacher, for the way in
